

Armand Girard

Divided authorities. Never are efficient. You must have one person in charge. And it must be the metro area. Thus It must be totally state run.

Next. I would send that person to Paris. Where he can see how a great Transportation system works

Then I would have him ride on Uber For two days to see how a transportation System is using high tech to solve problems

A girard Sent from my iPhone

